FOSFA INTERNATIONAL

The Federation of Oils, Seeds and Fats Associations is an international trade organisation that facilitates and supports the global trading and shipping of vegetable and animal oils and fats, oilseeds, and their derivatives.

85% of the global trade in oils and fats is traded under FOSFA Contracts and we have more than 1,200 members in nearly 90 countries.

FOSFA EDUCATION gives individuals access to learning and training resources in all aspects of the international trade in oilseeds, oils and fats. It also facilitates valuable networking opportunities.

Our expert courses are designed for industry professionals including FOSFA contracts, supporting documents, dispute resolution, arbitration shipping, trade finance & technical topics.

STUART LOGAN

Stuart Logan was Chief Executive and Secretary of FOSFA International for twenty-seven years from 1994 until his retirement in 2020 and only the second person to hold the post since the Federation was founded.

Stuart was and remains a great advocate of FOSFA International's educational courses and their aim to facilitate and support the global trading and shipping of oils, oilseeds and fats.

The FOSFA Council and the Worshipful Company of Tallow Chandlers are delighted to introduce this bursary of six annual awards of up to £2,500 in recognition of Stuart's long and dedicated service to FOSFA International and his enthusiastic support for the value of education.

FOSFA International's association with the Worshipful Company of Tallow Chandlers goes back prior to the founding of the Federation and they are great advocates of education and devoted supporters of our trade.

We are confident that this bursary will make a positive contribution to the educational ambitions and achievement for many individuals embarking on a career in our trade.

THE WORSHIPFUL COMPANY OF TALLOW CHANDLERS

The Worshipful Company of Tallow Chandlers is one of the ancient livery companies of the City of London. The organization which engaged in tallow candle making and the trade of oils, first received a Royal Charter in 1462.

The Company seeks to use the networks of trade, business and other associations, which have been built up over hundreds of years in support of its educational and charitable efforts. The Hall, dating from 1672 is the tangible expression of fellowship which underpins its support for trade and business and its focus on educational and charitable activities.

The Company works hard to make a real difference, and supports a wide range of charities, with particular emphasis on education and its strong links with the oil and edible fats industries.

INTRODUCTION & PURPOSE

The FOSFA International “Stuart Logan” Bursary, in partnership with the Worshipful Company of Tallow Chandlers awards individuals who are in full-time employment of a FOSFA member or non-member company whose main activity is in trading, shipping, dealing, brokering, superintending or analysis of oilseeds, oils or fats.

The purpose of the Bursary award is to promote skills and knowledge excellence in the oilseeds, oils and fats trade by enabling applicants to attend one of FOSFA International’s residential education courses in London.
