

OPTIONAL AND SPECIAL CLAUSES

FOSFA EXTENSION OF SHIPMENT CLAUSE - CONTRACT No 54

HH54

The following clause is for optional use with Contract No 54, revised and effective from 1st September 2008.

When the contract shipment period does not exceed 31 days the period of shipment can, at the request of the shipper, be extended by an additional period not exceeding 8 days, provided notice is given to the Buyer by any means of rapid written communication, of his intention to claim such extension not later than the first business day following the last day of the original contract shipment period. Successive Buyers must pass on this notification with due dispatch. The Seller need not state the number of additional days claimed, but the contract price shall be reduced as follows by:-

½% for 1, 2, 3 or 4 days, or 1% for 5 or 6 days, 1½% for 7 or 8 days.

If the Seller requests an extension and fails to ship within the 8 days, the original contract shipment period shall be considered to have been extended by 8 days and the contract price reduced by 1½%.

FOSFA CONTRACT No 54

NN

The following clause is deemed to be incorporated in contracts for Malaysian palm kernel oil and became effective on and from 1st September 1982.

ADJUSTMENT OF OUTTURN CLAUSE: whenever the quantity delivered at destination differs from the mean contract quantity, the surplus or deficiency shall be settled as follows:

Up to and including the first 2% of variation from the mean contract quantity at contract price; the variation above 2% of the mean contract quantity at market price on day of arrival of ship at port of discharge, which is to be agreed between Buyers and Sellers, or determined by FOSFA.

The weight delivered at destination referred to in this clause shall be the weight established, less any moisture and/or impurities arising from external causes after loading.

FOSFA CONTRACT No 80

AS37

This clause is deemed to be incorporated into the Contract, where such Contract is for oil of Malaysian or Indonesian origin, and becomes effective from 1st March 2001.

EXTENSION OF SHIPMENT/CONTINUOUS LOADING: Where the contract shipment period does not exceed 31 days the period of shipment shall, at the request of Sellers, be extended by an additional period not exceeding 8 days provided notice is given to Buyers of their intention to invoke the continuous loading provisions or claim such extension not later than the first business day following the last day of the original contract shipment period. Successive Sellers must pass on this notification with due dispatch. Sellers shall at the same time nominate the ship they intend to load and shall provide, together with shipping documents, satisfactory evidence that the ship was originally booked with lay days/cancelling within the original contract shipment period.

No allowance shall be payable provided the ship commenced loading at the loadport from which the goods appropriated under this contract are shipped during the contract shipment period and provided loading is completed within 5 days of the end of the original contract shipment period.

If loading did not so commence or, having commenced, did not complete within the said 5 days, Sellers shall make an allowance to their Buyers, on the quantity not loaded, to be deducted in the invoice from the contract price, as follows:

½% for 1, 2, 3 or 4 days

1% for 5 or 6 days

1 ½% for 7 or 8 days.

If Sellers invoke the continuous loading provisions or claim an extension and fail to ship within the 8 days, the original contract shipment period shall be considered to have been extended by 8 days and the contract price reduced by 1½%.

Should Sellers not claim the above extension and fail to ship within the contract period any penalty whether arrived at by amicable settlement or arbitration shall not be related to the allowances of this clause.

Where the conditions of this clause are invoked Sellers undertake not to load on the same ship similar goods sold for the then current shipment period, without the prior consent of Buyers.

These samples are to remain sealed with Sellers' superintendent at origin but be available on demand to any receiver in the event of a contamination claim. Samples to be kept for three months from date of Bill of Lading.

FOSFA INTERNATIONAL - DOCUMENTS BYPASS (STRING) - CONTRACT No 53AS45

The following clause became effective on and from 1st April 2019 and is for use when agreed between Buyers and Sellers.

In case of re-sales in string any party involved may propose a documents bypass whereby the first or a subsequent Seller is to present documents at his own price directly to the last or a previous Buyer. Such proposal to contain names of Sellers and Buyers in the string. Each party shall settle price differentials with their counter-party based on the sales price of the first seller involved in the documents bypass.

All parties in the string may in their own absolute discretion refuse or agree without prejudice to their rights and obligations under their own contract, and the proposal will be declared in force only if all parties in the string have confirmed their agreement, otherwise it will be declared failed, either declaration to be notified without delay to all parties involved by the party having made the original proposal.

Parties shall have the right to withdraw their consent by giving such notice to all parties in the string but only up to the time at which the documents bypass has been declared to have come into force. If a bypass proposal is declared in force it shall be deemed to have transferred automatically from the first to the last Buyer the obligation to pay for the goods and, to cover insurance in accordance with the Insurance Clause above. Likewise, the acceptance of a string proposal by the parties other than the first Seller and the last Buyer shall be deemed to constitute their firm commitment to pay any price differentials and other monies due.

To permit settlement of price differentials the end Buyer in the string shall without delay confirm receipt of shipping documents and the exact quantity shipped to all parties involved, and price differentials shall then be paid within 48 hours from receipt of the relevant debit note. Despite agreeing without prejudice to a documents bypass proposal, all the parties' rights and obligations under their individual contracts, save as amended by operation of the agreed bypass, shall remain fully in force. Prior to the presentation of documents to the end Buyer any party in the string may in the event of unforeseen and serious circumstances, including the insolvency or threatened insolvency of any party in the string, withdraw agreement giving immediate notice of such withdrawal to all other parties. The documents shall then be presented through the string between individual counter-parties. Should the nominated ship(s) and/or barges(s) for a string already in force be substituted, totally or in part, the first Seller is under no obligation to commence loading the substitute ship(s) and/or barges(s) prior to receipt of his own counter-party's agreement.

In the event of a dispute arising all parties to the agreement of the established documents bypass accept to be bound by the Arbitration and Bankruptcy/Insolvency Clauses of FOSFA Contract No 53, with Arbitration as specified in the FOSFA Rules of Arbitration and Appeal. English Law and Domicile to apply notwithstanding any other law or domain to the contrary in respect of any or all disputes arising from the sale or movement of these goods.
